

PATRICK GOSCHKE, CFA

Project Manager

Patrick Goschke is a strategic thinker with a passion for the energy industry.

He possesses extensive expertise in cost of capital, revenue requirements, cost of service rate making and financial modeling. His experience spans the natural gas and electric industries, covering a wide range of regulatory and strategic consulting engagements.

Before joining Concentric, Mr. Goschke worked for a mid-sized gas utility, specializing in financial planning and analysis, strategic forecasting, and regulatory support. Prior to that, he gained valuable experience working in wholesale gas marketing and supply operations.

Mr. Goschke holds an M.S. in Finance from American University, along with a B.S. in Business Administration and B.A. in International Studies from the same institution. He is currently pursuing a graduate certificate in Public Utility Regulation and Economics from NMSU. Mr. Goschke is a CFA Charterholder.
