

LISA QUILICI

Senior Vice President & Board Member

Lisa Quilici is a highly-regarded financial and regulatory consultant with over three decades of experience advising energy clients across North America on a wide range of strategic, financial, and regulatory matters.

Ms. Quilici has supported clients' Boards and senior management teams on regulatory matters, including analysis, policy formation, compliance, and rate cases, often serving as part of the client's internal rate case steering committee. Her extensive experience also includes obtaining regulatory approvals for transactions, as well as regulatory relations and communications.

Ms. Quilici has advised clients on mergers and acquisitions involving electric, natural gas, thermal, and water utilities in 20 states and managed or advised the sale of numerous transactions for generation stations of businesses. Additionally, she has been an advisor in many transactions involving nuclear power plants.

She has appeared before regulators, staff, and intervenor groups innumerable times and has provided expert testimony on transaction and regulatory matters on more than a dozen occasions before state regulatory agencies and courts.

Ms. Quilici joined REED Consulting group in 1994, becoming one of the youngest officers named in that organization. REED was acquired by Navigant Consulting in 1997, where she served as an executive until leaving Navigant to form Concentric in 2001. Ms. Quilici is a member of Concentric's Board of Directors and acts as its corporate secretary.
